capture three men. Men have the opportunity to escape their lives. The men are lined up and bound to stakes such that one man can see the backs of the other two, the middle man can see the back of the front man, and the front man cannot see anybody. The men are shown five hats, three of which are black and two of which are white. Then the men are blindfolded, and one of the five hats is placed on each man's head. The remaining two hats are hidden away. The blindfolds are removed. The men are told that if just one of the men can guess what hat he is wearing, they may all go free. Time passes. Finally, the front man, who cannot see anyone, correctly guesses the color of his hat. What color was it, and how did he guess correctly? The back man can see the hats worn by the two men in front of him. So, if both of those hats were white, he would know that the hat he wore was black. However, since he does not answer, he must see at least one black hat ahead of him. After it becomes apparent to the middle man that the back man cannot figure out what he is wearing, he knows that there is at least one black hat worn by himself and the front man. Knowing this, if the middle man saw a white hat in front of him, he would know that his own hat was black, and could answer the question correctly. But, since he does not answer, he must see a black hat on the front man. After it becomes apparent to the front man that neither of the men behind him can answer the question, he realizes the middle man saw a black hat in front of him. So he says, correctly, "My hat is black." A man is looking at a photograph of someone. His friend asks who it is. The man replies, "Brothers and sisters, I have none. But that man's father is my father's son." Who was in the photograph? His son. What words are pronounced differently by merely capitalizing the first letter? There are several, and there could be more: 1. job, Job 2. herb, Herb 3. polish, Polish A man left home running. He ran a ways then turned left, ran the same distance and turned left again, ran the same distance and turned left again. When he came home, there were two masked men. Who were they? The receiver and the referee. Your dad tells you he'll pay you $6 an hour for the 6 seconds you take to wash your hands before dinner. How much did you do to wash your hands? Answer: 1 cent There is a vessel, with a staircase in it, leaning against a wall at the port. There are five rows and two fishing nets in the trawler. The distance between two consecutive steps on the scale is 1 meter. If the waves that crash against the wall rise half a meter in every half an hour, how long are six steps of the scale under the waves? The trawler rises with the waves, so no step will go under water. When I'm young, I'm sweet in the sun. When you're half-aged, I'll make you gay. When I'm old, I'm more than ever appreciated. Answer: Wine while I was going to St. Ives. I met a man with seven wives, Every wife had seven bags, every sack had seven cats, every cat had seven kits. Answer: One. Only I was going to St. Ives brain Teasers with answers Although these brains are not so difficult the previous ones, they still have a challenge. These brains prepare you for our last group, where answers are not provided immediately! Guess the next three letters of the GTNTL series. I, T, S. The complete sequence is the first letter of each word in the sentence. A boy walks along the way with a doctor. While the boy is the son of the doctor, the doctor is not the father of the boy. So who's the doctor? The doctor is the boy's mother. It's the beginning of pain and the end of the disease. You cannot express happiness without me, and yet I am in the midst of the crosses.
